Program Description

The Youth Development Program (UYDP) will provide academic support to low-income Urbana youth. UYDP operate as a comprehensive college and career readiness initiative mainly targeting in-school youth who are currently pursuing a high school diploma and need assistance in seeking entry into college and/or the workforce. Designed as a seamless one-stop youth development and transition program, UYDP continues to target youth in need of academic, social-emotional, and financial assistance preparation for success beyond high school.

Since the fall of 2012, UYDP youth have benefited from many supplements including: 1) weekly check-ins on academic status with follow-up referral for tutorials in English, math, and science; 2) twice monthly individual and group mentoring with students attending the University of Illinois, Parkland College and local community alumni from various institutions of higher education; 3) in and out-of-state college tours; and 4) one-to-one assistance with completion of the college application process, which included a parent workshop focused on completion of the federal student aid application facilitated by a representative from the Illinois Student Assistance Commission. In addition to the above college preparation enrichment, participants engaged in monthly digital and community-wide workforce exploration experiences including tours to local professional, para-professional, factories and other employment establishments.
